The ensuing COURSE OF LECTURES will commence on Monday, the third day of November next, by which time the Faculty earnestly desire to see the whole class assembled.

Since the last announcement, the chair of Physiology and Medical Jurisprudence, (made vacant by the resignation of Dr. R. S. HOLMES, on account of protracted ill health), has been filled by the appointment of Dr. J. H. WATERS, who, during the past two sessions, has delivered the course on Physiology with entire satisfaction.

Preliminary Lectures will be delivered at the College during the month of October, as also Clinical Lectures at the Hospitals and Dispensary.

These preliminary lectures are free of charge to all students, and those who can, will do well to attend them, especially as subjects are treated of not ordinarily embraced in the regular course.

The Anatomical rooms will also be opened on the third day of October, for the benefit of those students who may arrive before the commencement of the regular lectures. They will be under the superintendence and direction of the Professor and Demonstrator of Anatomy, one of whom will always be present to afford every information and assistance to those engaged in dissections.

Among the Institutions which afford the Faculty ample opportunities for Clinical Instruction, Surgical Operations and Post-Mortem Examinations, may be mentioned the following:

THE ST. LOUIS HOSPITAL.

This Institution is situated within three squares of the College building, and, on account of its central and convenient location, is the receptacle of most of the cases of severe recent injury. It is under the exclusive control of the Faculty during the entire year. An hour is spent EVERY DAY within its wards, by the Professor of Clinical Medicine, the class being subdivided, so that every student may have an opportunity of seeing and examining cases for himself. Besides these daily morning visits, the entire forenoons of Wednesdays and Saturdays are devoted exclusively to Clinical exercises in both Medicine and Surgery, by the whole class, either in this or in some one of the Hospitals. Thus the page of disease is continually exhibited to the student, to be read by him in all its phases. Semiology and Therapeutics go hand in hand, and Pathology and the action of Medicines are taught by practical, living illustrations.

An extensive addition has been erected, which makes the building twice its former size.

THE CITY HOSPITAL.

During the whole term, this large and well regulated Hospital is under the management of some one of the Faculty in attendance upon either the Medical or Surgical department. Clinical Lectures are here delivered by the Professor of Clinical Medicine or Surgery, during the preliminary as well as the regular course. The original plan has been carried out, in the extension of the front and the erection of a south wing, which have enlarged the establishment to three times its former dimensions. Dr. T. R. BANNISTER is the Resident Physician.

UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL.

This charity, erected by the General Government, is situated in South Saint Louis, and is devoted to the reception of sick and disabled boatmen. As St. Louis is already the third city in the Union in steamboat tonnage, it will be readily perceived how large a number of cases find their way into this excellent charity. It is under the control of GEORGE JOHNSON, M.D., Surgeon to the Institution. Here, as well as at the two preceding Hospitals, students are at all times admitted, free of charge.

THE ST. LOUIS LYING-IN HOSPITAL.

At present this Institution occupies temporary buildings, but the erection of an appropriate structure will soon be commenced on the south-east corner of Tenth and O'Fallon streets. The Physician in charge is Dr. L. CHARLES BOISLINIERE, who will be glad to extend its practical benefits to all students upon the payment of a small fee. Professor Pallen is the Consulting Physician.

THE O'FALLON CLINIC AND DISPENSARY.

This establishment occupies a building adjoining the Lecture Room of the College. Here, through the enlarged benevolence and liberality of its founder, Col. JOHN O'FALLON, the poor receive medical and surgical assistance, free of charge; whilst the Faculty have an important auxiliary to their already great facilities for Clinical instruction. Although presenting every variety of Medical and Surgical affection, the student is yet made more especially familiar with those diseases which he is most likely to meet with in the outset of his professional career. The average number of patients prescribed for and operated on during the year is over four thousand.

ANATOMICAL MATERIAL.

In St. Louis, anatomical material is both cheap and abundant. It will be the student's own fault if he fail to acquire a perfect knowledge of Practical Anatomy. Here are always subjects enough and to spare.

MUSEUM.

Although of comparatively recent date, the Museum will compare favorably with those of our oldest Institutions. It embraces the usual objects of such a collection, most of which are from the celebrated establishments of Guy Aine and of Thibert, of Paris. Large and valuable additions, in the way of illustrations of the diseases of the skin, in wax, morbid osteological specimens, etc., etc., have been made since the last announcement; and no pains or expense will be spared to render it complete.

Besides the Museum, more strictly appertaining to the elucidation of Medicine proper, another has been added, which is devoted to the collateral sciences of Comparative Anatomy, Natural History, Geology, Mineralogy, etc. Already presenting many specimens of considerable value and beauty, it will require but a very short time to render this collection still more valuable and attractive.

REQUISITES FOR THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE.

1st. That the candidate be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, and have been engaged in the study of Medicine for three years (courses of lectures included).

2d. That he shall have attended two full courses of lectures in this Institution. Attendance on a regular course in some respectable and generally actcredited medical school, or four years of reputable practice, will, however, be considered as equivalent to one of the courses above specified. The Dissecting Ticket must also have been taken at least one session, in this or some other school. He must also have followed the practice of a Hospital.

3d. That he shall undergo a satisfactory examination on all the branches taught in this College, and write an acceptable Thesis, either in the English, Latin, French, or German language, on some subject connected with Medicine.

4th. That he notify the Dean, in writing, of his intention to become a candidate by the first of February, and deliver to him his Thesis, at the same time accompanied by the graduating fee; which shall be returned, along with the Thesis, in case of withdrawal or rejection.

5th. And that he publicly assent to the following promise, prior to the conferring of the degree, viz:

"You, A. B., do solemnly promise that you will, to the utmost of your ability, exert your influence for promoting the welfare and respectability of the profession; that you will demean yourself honorably in the practice thereof; that you will not put forth any nostrum or secret method of cure, nor engage in any other species of quackery; and that you will not publish any matter or thing laudatory of yourself, or derogatory to the profession; and in the conferring of this degree, it is done with the express understanding that the Trustees and Faculty reserve to themselves the right and privilege to revoke said degree whenever the promise here made shall be violated."

Graduates of other respectable schools are admitted to the Lectures on the payment of the Matriculating fee only.

Students will be expected to exhibit their tickets to the Janitor, after the first two weeks of the session.

The fees for the whole course (paid in advance) amount to $105. The Matriculating Ticket (paid but once) is $5; that of the Demonstrator, $10; the Hospital Tickets are gratuitous, and the Graduating Fee is $20.

Boarding, including lights and fuel, can be obtained as usual, in respectable private families, at convenient distance from the College, at as reasonable rates as in other large cities. All students or others desirous of obtaining further information, can either address the Dean, or, on arriving in the city, call upon him at his office, south-west corner of Tenth and Locust streets; or inquire of the Curator at the College, on the north-east corner of Seventh and Myrtle streets.

CHARLES A. POPE, M.D., DEAN.
